Saskatoon resident Linda Wylie put up with a lot from Dr. Elarien Korchinski, according to her statement of claim, before complaining about him to the Saskatchewan College of Physicians and Surgeons.

Ms. Wylie, who was separated from her husband, says she asked the doctor to prescribe birth control pills, and he commented that she needed to be spanked. Then he incessantly telephoned her to discuss his own marriage. Then he pressed to come round to her place for coffee, to renew the prescription. ...

This material is published under license from the publisher through the Gale Group, Farmington Hills, Michigan. All inquiries regarding rights or concerns about this content should be directed to Customer Service.

Subscribe and get access to articles from thousands of credible publications

HighBeam Research is operated by Cengage Learning. © Copyright 2018. All rights reserved.

www.highbeam.com